THE BULLETIN'S MOTHERCRAFT SERIES

ARE YOU GIVING YOUR CHILD THE FOOD HE NEEDS?

On This Early Nourishment Depends His Future Strength, Vitality and Therefore Efficiency

THE FEEDING OF CHILDREN.

ONE of the most important factors in the wellbeing of any individual is right feeding in childhood, especially in early childhood. One of the chief causes of sickness and death among young children is their wrong feeding. Of the thousands of babies and young children who die in this country every year from preventable causes statistics show that more than 1,949 every month die directly from wrong feeding. A most conservative estimate would be 1,049 ill on any one day from the same cause. Further, wrong feeding weakens the system so the child is much more susceptible to infectious diseases.

Not only the general health of the individual, but also the teeth, the digestive system, the nervous system, the quality of mental activity, power of will and strength of character are profoundly affected by the foods and regime of feeding during childhood.

The intelligence of the mother or the nurse, the grandmother, the father and the friend has far more to do with the right feeding of children than does the amount of the family income. The child in the wealthy home is quite as liable to be wrongly fed as the child in the poor home. It is possible to buy enough of the right kind of food for a very small sum.

To feed a child so as to produce 100 per cent. efficiency in his health today and fifty years from today should be the ambition of every mother who has the care of that child, not merely to keep him from death or present illness. This is not an easy matter, nor to be learned in a day or a month. It requires careful and earnest study of food combination, food values, the physiology of digestion, dietetics, cooking, and then patience, thoroughness and practicality to put this knowledge into practice three to five times a day, seven days in the week, every week in the year.

THE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF FEEDING.

1. Cleanliness and purity.

The following standards are necessary to meet these requirements: (a) Clean, unadulterated foods. Foods unwholesome because of adulteration include:

(1) Canned goods preserved with benzoate of soda or other artificial preservative.

(2) Candies, jams, preserves, pickles, containing coal tar dyes and other adulterants.

(3) Bulkhead bleached dried fruits and molasses.

(4) Bakery goods made with preservatives, eggs, milk and other adulterants.

(5) Protection from dust, dirt and insects. Dry foods, such as bread, crackers, dates and figs, should be kept wrapped in moisture proof paper. Butter, bakery goods and dried fruits not so wrapped should be kept under glass. Milk and vegetables should be kept within doors, protected from dogs and cats. Milk, which must easily contaminated, should be produced in a clean dairy, by clean workers, kept covered constantly, protected from cats and dogs, in a cool place.

(6) Preparation under sanitary conditions. Bakers and other food factories and kitchens should be scrupulously clean, with abundance of fresh air and sunlight.

She does look happy with her crackers and apple, but—one of the hard and fast rules is: "No food between meals."

Protection of food from dust and insects. Bread and cake wrapped in moisture proof paper, butter under glass, milk in a clean, rummed, covered bottle.

light. All persons handling food should be free from any contagious disease and have clean hands and garments. This factor is even more important than freedom from adulteration.

It is easily possible today to ascertain what products meet the pure food requirements. By careful purchasing and the preparation and serving of food at home by healthy individuals, with intelligent attention to sanitation, these essential requirements of hygiene can be most completely assured.

2. Regularity.

Meals should be served promptly at regular hours and no food taken between meals. The digestive fluids are prepared to perform their work at the established hours. If food is taken irregularly the digestive fluids are not ready and cannot act efficiently. If food is taken while undigested food remains in the stomach the work of digestion must begin over again, as the fluids secreted in the early stage of digestion are different from those in the last stages. Thus the food previously taken is kept in the stomach too long, it ferments, too much acid is produced, sour stomach results, the stomach is irritated and glands are overworked, become exhausted, and the consequence is poor digestion. To do its best work the stomach requires rest between feedings.

During sleep the activity of the digestive tract is very slow. Food taken at night, therefore, causing indigestion, is not well digested and is likely to remain in the stomach until it ferments, the pressure produces disturbed sleep and "bad dreams," the stomach is not ready for digesting breakfast; the individual wakes tired, without appetite and possibly with headache or nausea. Babies, having only three meals a day, should be fed at regular intervals. With children two to six years an hour should intervene between the last supper and sleep; with older children from two to four hours.

If a child is regularly hungry between meals meals; (b) did not well balanced

Cleanliness, Regularity, Simplicity and Sufficiency Are Fundamental Principles of Feeding

—usually insignificant mineral foods; (c) eating too rapidly, so that food is not well chewed and therefore not assimilated; (d) too long intervals between meals. If occasionally hungry between meals light food requiring little digestion should be given, such as fruit juice, ripe fruits, dates, figs or a glass of milk. Cake, cookies, candies or hearty foods upset digestion.

3. Simplicity.

This applies both to the variety served at one meal, to the method of preparation and to the serving. A maximum of five or six food items at one meal is sufficient and is more easily digested than a greater number. Foods simply cooked require less work of the digestive organs than do more complex mixtures, and at the same time they cultivate simple tastes, with their contentment.

4. Cheerfulness.

Good cheer is the best of appetizers. Professor Pawlow has discovered that the amount and the efficiency of the gastric juice is affected by the anticipation and enjoyment of food and that the gastric juice thus poured out at the beginning of a meal, which he has called the "appetite juice," is the most powerful and active. Haggardness and laughter (but not silliness or carelessness) should therefore be encouraged at meals.

A child should not be fed when excited, angry, cross, crying, unhappy or over-tired. Under such mental stress no gastric nor intestinal juices are formed, and food cannot be digested. When a child is very tired the system is too exhausted to do the work of digestion, and nitrogenous foods (such as meat or eggs) then are positively injurious. Sometimes a child is cross simply because he is hungry, and then feeding will help him in a happy mood, conducive to digestion. Otherwise it is better to give only a small quantity of easily digested food, such as fruit juice, this grain vegetable broth, toast or milk.

5. Neatly in service.

Every service of a meal is an opportunity to cultivate neatness, cleanliness, courtesy, self-reliance. Every meal has the potential significance of a religious service and a banquet. Bringing as it does renewed life and good feelings to the food daily. Keep a flower or fern or green leaves on the table.

6. Sufficiency.

This applies (a) to the total quantity of energy and fuel foods, or what is technically called caloric sufficiency, and (b) to the quantity and proportion of each of the food elements, technically called a balanced ration. Careful studies of dietary needs have been made within the last ten years, and the approximate needs at different ages are now so exactly determined that adequate feeding need no longer be a mystery. These two points—caloric sufficiency and proportion of food elements—will be taken up in detail in the next article.

NOTES OF THE FILMS

Two of the greatest modern playwrights have collaborated on a motion picture for the Famous Players Film Company. They are Kenneth Wolf and Channing Pollock. The picture is known as "The Evil Tendency" and features Frank Losee, well remembered here for his Joshua White, in "The Old Homestead."

What has become of so many of Broadway's favorite leading women and matinee idols among the young male actors? The fall opening will play a new line of goods, and no man-nerless newcomer Mary Boland, Helen Harrington, Jane Grey, Irene Mace, Corin Johnson, John Harrington. They are all at the Triangle studios acting before the camera. Broadway is to see them later in the season, because at these and all hundred others are to be seen at the Knickerbocker and Rialto theatres during the Triangle season.

NO GRAND OPERA HONORS SOUGHT BY CHORUS GIRL

Helen Galt, member of "Nobody Home" chorus, who is on the stage to make her living and not to herself for great career, she says: "I am on the stage—in the chorus, if you please—because I have to earn my living, and because I find my present work easier and more remunerative than being an artist's model or doing half a dozen other kinds of work. Such is the statement of Miss Helen Galt, one of the beautiful fashion models, who is a member of "Nobody Home," which comes to Empire Theatre for three days beginning Monday, June 12th. "Nobody Home," by the way, is one of the most successful musical comedies New York has produced. It has been delighting New York and Boston audiences for more than a year. "Nice tenets of the chorus girls of having need for this of that in musical art," said Miss Galt. "There's a good deal of fiction in most of the statements, however. I really have been for Archie Dunn and Charles Dunn as well as other artists. They all said 'I was a Type.' But I used to get very tired. "Standing in one position for hours at a time is not easy. It wears on one's nerves. And the money paid is a mere pittance when compared with the actual labor involved. "On the stage a girl has a chance to move about. Dancing is good exercise. The travel is hard, but there are compensations for that, for instance, seeing the country. "Sticks and Salts," the latest Marguerite Clark feature film will be released June 12. # Giant Battleships Go Down; Serious Losses Are Reported on Both Sides

British and German Admiralties Issue Official Reports of Engagement, Which Lasted Throughout Whole of Night—British Statement Says German Fleet Avoided Main British Forces, and Returned to Port Severely Damaged—Some Particulars of the Lost Ships

London, June 2.—From the advices thus far received it would appear that the greatest naval battle of history has taken place. Never before have two naval forces of such magnitude as the British and German high seas fleets engaged in combat. The losses, serious as they are reported to have been, will not impair the strength of either fleet to a vital extent.

The scene of the battle was in the eastern waters of the North Sea. It is probable that the German fleet was on one of the excursions into the North Sea, which it has taken from time to time during the war and met, whether or not by design, with the British fleet.

Between Norway and Denmark

Skagerrak is an arm of the North Sea between Norway and Denmark. The point referred to in the official German statement as Hornirf probably is the reef off the Horn in the southwestern extremity of Denmark. This would indicate that the battle was fought off the coast of Denmark. From the reef to Heligoland, the main German naval base in the North Sea, is about one hundred miles.

News of the engagement was held back by the British authorities.

British Admiralty's Statement.

The text of the Admiralty's statement follows:

"On the afternoon of Wednesday, the 31st May, a naval engagement took place off the coast of Jutland. The British ships on which the brunt of the fighting fell were the battle cruiser fleet and some cruisers and light cruisers, supported by four fast battleships. Among the losses were heavy. The German battle fleet, aided by low visibility, avoided a prolonged action with our main forces. As soon as they appeared on the scene the enemy returned to port, though not before receiving severe damage from our battleships.

"The battle cruisers Queen Mary, Indefatigable and Invincible and the cruisers Defence and Black Prince were sunk. The Warrior was disabled and after being towed some time had to be abandoned by her crew. It is also known that the destroyers Tipperary, Turbulent, Fortune, Sparrow Hawk and Ardent are lost and six others are not yet accounted for. No British battleships or light cruisers were sunk.

"The enemy's losses were serious. At least one battle cruiser was destroyed and one severely damaged. One battleship is reported to have been sunk by our destroyers. During the night attack two light cruisers were disabled and probably sunk. The exact number of enemy destroyers disposed of during the action cannot be ascertained with any certainty, but must have been large.

German Report of Fight

Berlin, June 2 (via wireless to Sayville).—The German admiralty announced today that the German high sea fleet on May 31 had encountered a British fighting fleet. The engagement, which developed, the admiralty says, was favorable to the Germans. The battle continued all night. The German admiralty announces that the large British battleship Wasp, the battle cruisers Queen Mary and Indefatigable, and two armored cruisers, were destroyed.

The text of the German admiralty report, which is dated June 1, says:

"During an enterprise directed to the northward, our high sea fleet on May 31 encountered the main part of the English fighting fleet, which was considerably superior to our forces.

"During the afternoon, between Skagerrak and Hornirf, a heavy engagement developed which was successful for us, and which continued during the night.

Vessels Reported Lost.

"In this engagement, so far as known up to the present, there were destroyed by us the large battleship Wasp, the battle cruisers Queen Mary and Indefatigable, two armored cruisers, apparently of the Achilles type; one small cruiser, the two flagships of the fleet, a large number of torpedo boat destroyers for the destroyer squadron, the Turbulent, Nestore and one submarine.

"By observation, which was free and clear of objects, it was stated that a large number of English battleships suffered damage from our ships and the attacks of our torpedo boat flotilla during the day engagement and throughout the night.

Marlborough Hit By Torpedo.

"Among others, the large battleship Marlborough was hit by a torpedo. This was confirmed by prisoners.

"Several of our ships rescued parts of the crews of the sunken English ships, among them being two of the only survivors of the Indefatigable.

"On our side, the small cruiser Wiesbaden, by hostile gunfire during the day engagement and his majesty's ship Pommern, during the night, were destroyed. The fate of his majesty's ship Frauenlob, which is missing, and of some torpedo boats, which have not returned yet, is unknown.

"The high sea fleet returned today (Thursday) into our port."

Food Scarcity In Germany May Become Most Important Factor In Winning War for the Allies

are heavily punished when found guilty of hoarding foodstuffs. The search of one Berlin merchant's store revealed the existence of a hollow floor where large quantities of foodstuffs were being hidden.

Measures taken by Von Bismarck are not welcomed by the people. The news of the arrival of travelling soap kitchens circulated in Berlin was the occasion of wild rioting when the Berlin Tageblatt reported as follows:

"An attempt by the Charitable authorities to relieve the general distress by a distribution through perambulating kitchens containing meals of pork, peas and potatoes ended in an utter fiasco. Each kitchen contained four hundred miles of stew. A few minutes after the kitchens arrived the neighboring streets were thronged by thousands eager to secure a share of the foodstuffs.

Drivers and attendants were helpless in the face of the mob of shrieking men, women and children scoping up the steaming stew. Hundreds of old men and women as well as many children were knocked down and trampled upon within a quarter of an hour the only evidences of clothing were broken parts of kitchen vats, smashed crockery and shreds of flapping litter on the roadway.

"The authorities now announce that the affair was an experiment and that it will not be repeated. But this is a lie. They did not avoid any precautions which might have prevented the rioting. The people that will be coming in still further suffering to the people."

The British states that he intends to bring the results of his visit before the committee in a report with a view to a tour of inspection of the district next year by that body and the boards of other parishes cities.

MEN FOR BRITISH NAVY BEING SOUGHT

Canadians Answered Captain Guinness—Many Taken Men in Britain.

Ottawa, June 1.—Men for the British navy proper are to be sought in Canada. Captain Guinness, the Hon. Robert Guinness, member of the British parliament, who has been active in connection with naval matters, is here to make arrangements for the recruiting of men for Britain's navy.

In an interview, Captain Guinness refused to go into details of his mission, but he did say that he had not yet seen Hon. J. D. Hazen, head of the Canadian naval department. The difficulty to be met in England at present is the shortage of men in the navy, he said. Men have to be obtained to build the ships, to man the ships, to build and to man the ships, to build and to man the ships.

It's all right for a girl to hate a man, but it's all right for a man to hate a girl, he should do the hating."

BELIEVES NORTH COUNTRY RICH IN OIL PRODUCTS

President Great West Saddlery Co. Enthusiastic Over Visit Hitherland

M. P. Hutchings, Winnipeg, president of the Great West Saddlery Company, who is in company with his brother, H. J. Hutchings, Calgary, and W. F. Thompson, manager of Edmonton branch, made a trip through the Peace River country has returned with enthusiasm for the northland. "It is not the garden of Eden," said he, "it is a magnificent country and my general impression is that it offers a new world for the people of Canada to settle. People will have here really no good shares, if not better than in any part of the country that has been settled so far. The climate is so good it is not better than Edmonton, the weather is so good that it will be a first rate; and I believe when the connection is made between Peace River Crossing and H.C. the country will be populated very rapidly, because it will then be brought within 300 miles of the Pacific coast. When the railways are built and running they will be able to get a better freight rate than the people in any other section of the prairie provinces, and it is reasonable to suppose they will set a better price for their produce."

Mr. Hutchings mentioned that he had for all and gone was being carried out at various points and he expressed his opinion that the whole district was full of these products. "All men," said he, "the talk is about the Peace River country and the railways should be built in this shape as soon as possible to carry the people that will be coming in. They will be coming. There is no doubt about it. The front will have the best chance."

Mr. Hutchings stated that he intends to bring the results of his visit before the committee in a report with a view to a tour of inspection of the district next year by that body and the boards of other parishes cities.

CHIEF BENDER CAN'T SEE WHY EVERYONE ISN'T 'TRAPSHOOTER

Indian Whom Connie Mack Termed "The Greatest Player" Loves Baseball and Golf, But Trapshooting is His Hobby—Has Been Banging at Targets for 13 Years.

By Charles A. (Chief) Bender.

I can't see why every man should not be a trapshooting "bug." Certainly I must confess that the nearest "bug" I know is a "bug" in the reason why.

What is a doubt the love for trapshooting and hunting is inherent with every man who has a chip on his shoulder of pet blood in his veins. The "fever" is just naturally bred in the bones. It may be dormant for a while, but sooner or later it's bound to assert itself.

What man is there who cannot look back over the years and recall an irresistible youthful desire to own a real gun? What man is there who hasn't heard the call of the big outdoors? And surely what man is there who could play the role of spectator at a real trapshooting competition without experiencing a desire to take a crack at the flying clays himself, and show the other fellow how to squash 'em. The old adage that a man is only a grown-up boy still holds good. The latent desire of youth are bound to crop up. If you doubt it, just visit the nearest gun club this day.

Trapshooting His Hobby.

Personally, I like all outdoor sports. The bond between baseball and myself is practically unbreakable. Golf, comes in for its share of attention, but trapshooting is my hobby. There's something irresistible about the whirling, cowering, scintillating clays that fairly challenge one's skill. And there's no let-up to the proposition. It isn't only interest but it grows on one.

I have been banging away at the clay targets for over thirteen years, and even today every new competition covers new trial at the traps—sends me to the score with an increased desire, lately I have done my best work.

For the last few weeks I have been occasionally favored, and right here let me confess a little in having "got it" my longest streak.

Ladies Can Shoot.

From the standpoint of clean, wholesome, invigorating sport, surely trapshooting is worthy of every man's attention. And it is surprising to note the number of women who are daily indulging in it. Also, it is remarkable to learn of the many "crack" shots to be found among the center sex. One seldom picks up the trapshooting news today without finding surprising records made by some feminine devotee. This is in itself ample evidence of the wholesome nature of the business. In fact, it is wished he could undoubtedly increase many pages on the merits and virtues of the educational and tempering toward physical and mental development of the sport at large. It is, however, regrettable that in growing greater every day. If you doubt it, visit the nearest gun club, and see some gun club on the day of a shoot. Indubitably, see if you, too, don't get the "fever."

Topping the Climax.

Henry J. Topping, one of the leading golfers of the east, has set a new fashion among the amateur devotees of the ancient Scottish game. It has always been supposed a lifelong desire to excel at golf and with this idea in mind he engaged the exclusive services of that well-known professional, McDonald Smith, at a salary of $2,500 a year to perfect him in the game. McDonald Smith, a young star was won the metropolitan championship at Acushnet, in 1911 and a world record for scratch in two holes.

The private tutor idea was a success. Mr. Topping, after a few months schooling under the eye of the famous professional, won the eastern championship in one week. First, he vanquished John R. Anderson in the battle for the chief cup at Ardsley, and a few days later defeated Charles W. White of the Pineau Country Club in the final round of the Garden City Golf Club invitational tournament by a margin of 4 up and 2 to play.

Mr. Topping has for several years squandered well up in many of the leading golf meets. He first attracted attention from golfers when he defeated Chick Evans in a nine-hole hole match in the semi-final round for the north and south championship at Pinehurst, N. C. In the spring of 1914 he accompanied Francis Ouimet, Jerry Travers, Chick Evans, Fred Herschell, Frank Hale, and Edward Knapp abroad for an invasion of the English links. Mr. Topping landed home in the British amateur championship that Travers, Ouimet, Hale, and Knapp.

Henry Topping, as he is familiarly called, married Miss Helen Reddy, daughter of Daniel G. Reid, the Wall Street magnate. The elder Mr. Topping, also a golf enthusiast, presented the Greenwich Country Club with $15,000 to remake the fifteenth hole in the course he didn't like. Now the fifteenth hole is one of the best short holes in the country.

The "private tutor" idea is quite the proper thing just now. Have you yours?

DAN PATCH'S MARKS STILL STAND PACING KING HOLDS THE RECORD

HOW long will the records of Dan Patch endure?

Over the sweep of 10 years the fastest pace in the world have tried to lower the marks made by the little white horse, but he has held his own in the prime—but they have failed. Dan Patch still holds the record for a mile in 1:55.4.

He made his great mark in 1906 over the mile track at Keosauqua, Iowa, and he has since then been a champion, with his record to protect him, and with runners on each side, he paced the mile in 1:55.4.

The nearest approach to his amazing mile was made last summer in Syracuse when Directum L., with a windmill and one runner, won the mile in 1:58.34.

In addition to holding the mile record, Dan Patch also established the following marks:

PORK IS STILL ON DOWNGRADE

Drop of Two Cents Per Pound Noted in Two Weeks' Time.
Cattle Prices Advance

The High Cost of Hogs, unlike the well-known bogey, the High Cost of Living, is considerably less this week and while from the consumers' standpoint it is still making much to be desired, the hog raisers of the country are feeling the pinch. Two weeks ago choice hogs were selling off cars in Edmonton for $11.10; today the top price for hogs is $9.00—a reduction of more than $2.00 per hundred in two weeks' time. Local packers said that this was no legitimate reason for hog prices soaring to over $11.00 and were not surprised when the drop came. It was a fictitious value, according to the packers, set by the east-

Coincident with the decline in hog prices came advances in beef and sheep. Cattle of practically all grades advanced half a cent per pound during the past week, the top price being paid today for choice fat steers, off cars in Edmonton, being $8.50. Equally good sheep prices, in fact young lambs now are selling for as high as $8.50 an advance of one dollar over last week.

Today's live stock prices are as follows:

Cattle.

Arrivals—231 cattle; 2,100 hogs; 5 sheep; 5 horses.
Shipped—145 cattle; 615 hogs, 35 sheep, 8 horses. The plants took 10 cars of cattle and hogs; 1 car of sheep; 1 car of horses.

Minneapolis wheat was 15c down for the week.

The clove was weak, with most wheat prices at the low point of the day. Many of the wheat futures were down, excepting a short covering rally.

In view of the holiday tomorrow, the market was quiet, but the lower opening, the steady rally and the weak close made things look better.

American markets tried hard to raise prices, but the lack of interest by the liberalists and the lack of cash seemed was too much for the bulls.

Long Months Watchful Waiting Broken by Venture of Hun Fleet

German Heaviest Losses in Naval Battles Prior to Greatest Sea Clash of the War—British Fleet Waiting Near Orkney Islands

The first word received of the big naval battle was by wireless from Berlin by which news the Germans are able to escape the censorship over cable lines.

The losses in the engagement must have been extremely heavy. The battle cruiser Indefatigable, for instance, from which the German admiral reports only two men were saved, probably had more than 200 men on board, and others of the vessels must carry complete complements of men equally or nearly as large.

Previous to the battle British fleet had been in the course of the war ten battleships, eleven cruisers, and a large number of destroyers. The British fleet consisted of 10 battleships, 10 cruisers, 10 destroyers, and a large number of submarines.

Since the beginning of the war British cruisers and destroyers have patrolled during night and day the approaches to the German fleet's base in the bay formed by the mouths of the Elbe and the Weser, protected by the highly fortified batteries of Wilhelmshaven on the south, on the north by the supposedly impregnable mine barrier, the Kiel canal, and guarded by the cutting land of Heligoland. Until the engagement that has just occurred, however, no German fleet had been in force to threaten the safety of the British main fleet, which had been in the Atlantic, north of Scotland.

FRENCH OCCUPY ADVANCED LINE AS OUTCOME OF NIGHT SUCCESS

Progress Made Near Caurettes Wood After Fighting of Violent Character

Paris, June 2.—In the course of heavy fighting on the Verdun front, which continued through the night, the French progressed slightly south of Caurettes Wood, the war office statement of today announces. The struggle between Thimann Farm and Vaux, and the Meuse, is described as extremely violent.

The artillery action on both sides was exceptionally heavy throughout yesterday and last night.

Battle from the Verdun fighting, the night passed quietly after the front.

LAWYER DESIGNS TO PROTEST OVER BODEN'S LAXITY

Says Flames of Interior Trouble Flicker From Every Roof in Ontario

Montreal, June 2.—The resignation of Hon. P. A. Landry, speaker of the assembly, has been confirmed, and has been accepted by the government. It is expected that another French Canadian speaker will succeed to the speakership, to complete the present parliamentary term as expanded. The choice is most likely to fall upon Hon. Jos. Bouché, a member of the assembly since 1904, and a descendant of Louis Bouché, who was in New France in 1668, senator 1-14, lives at St. Victor de Tur.

June 2.—Senator Landry, in a speech given to the press, said that his reasons for tendering his resignation as president of the assembly were the resignation of Hon. P. A. Landry, and the resignation of Hon. Jos. Bouché, a member of the assembly since 1904, and a descendant of Louis Bouché, who was in New France in 1668, senator 1-14, lives at St. Victor de Tur.

HOPE IS COMING FOR REAL ANSWER TO CROWN PRINCE

Enemy Will Pay Dear for Mad Plan at Verdun But at Allies' Pleasure

Paris, June 2.—Maurice Huttin, in the Echo de Paris writes: "I am asked on everyday when we are expected on our side, and especially on our allies' side, from what I can learn the greatest part must be observed. The hour will come when the enemy will pay dear for his madness."

"Our brave soldiers at Verdun must still suffer and withstand for some time. If the enemy expects

Railway Commission To Deal With Proposed Freight Increase

One of the most important questions to come before the railway commission at its sitting in Edmonton in the course of the next few weeks will be the proposal of the railway companies to increase the rate on "single deck" of hogs, shippers were notified a couple of weeks ago of the intended change in the rate which amounts to 2 1/2 per cent from 10 cents to 12 1/2 cents. The rate on "double deck" cars when asked for. A year ago the companies raised the minimum weight of a "single deck" car from 20,000 to 18,000 pounds, because it was impossible to get more than 18,000 pounds into one car and ship. The fact that long distances with safety. They, however, now propose to take back what they conceded by increasing the rate.

Going to the activity of the department of railways considered it to be the various parties interested could be heard. As a result of the proposition orders from the east were again placed with the Western buyers and prices were practically recovered there.

As an illustration of how the market was affected Mr. Stevens mentioned that no notice of the suspension of the rate had been received one Calgary firm received an order from the east for 2,000 hogs.

A MONTHLY INCOME YOUR WIFE

2 Monthly Income for Life

SUPPOSE you know for certain that when your earning days are over your present income would be replaced by another—one which would be adequate for the support of yourself and of your family! And suppose you were sure that income would continue as long as the need for support exists! Can you imagine anything more comforting?

For Yourself in Old Age For Your Wife in Widowhood

NINETY-FIVE out of every hundred men who live to be sixty years of age are then dependent upon their daily earnings or upon charity for their support. It was this condition that caused Lord Rothschild, the eminent banker, to say that "while it required a great deal of boldness and of caution to amass a fortune, it required ten times greater wit to keep it."

But you can easily escape the misfortune of being dependent in your old age. Simply invest a portion of your earnings for a few years in an Imperial Monthly Income Endowment. Then, beginning when you are 55 or 60, or at whatever age you choose, we will send to you—regularly—each month—for the rest of your life—a cheque to provide for your comfort and independence.

If you should die before the policy matures the Monthly Income will be paid to whomever you have named as your beneficiary. And these Monthly Income payments will be made to you or to your beneficiary for not less than 20 years, no matter when your death may occur.

NOW—while you are insurable and can spare the money—ask us to tell you how small a yearly saving will put an Imperial Monthly Income Policy between you and a penniless old age—between your family and a life of hardship. Just fill in the information called for on the coupon at the side and mail it to us and we will send you full particulars without delay.

It will cost you nothing to learn all about this most modern form of life assurance. Sign the coupon and mail to us to-day—to-morrow may be too late!

Butter Krust Bread
Since 1876, when the first McGavin's Bakery was opened in London, England, the name has been a guarantee of quality and value. The English people have a reputation for their bread, and the British consumer will buy Canada bread today, quality being equal, in preference to that from any other country in the world with the possible exception of Ireland. Not only so, but an enormous market exists for the hams, frozen pork and cured meats of various descriptions. This market is as remunerative as the bacon trade, although it is not so well known. The fact that Canada is producing a great quantity of bacon today, quality being equal, as compared with what extent Canada should increase her export trade should, therefore, be a sound business proposition to breed as many sows as possible, and to produce as much bacon as possible, and to export it to the United States and other foreign markets. The Canadian bacon trade is a purely commercial one, and we must not forget that we cannot sell to the British merchants unless we have the mark and will lose status on the British

HOG DEMAND IS BEYOND SUPPLY

Canada Stands in Good Position to Develop Big Bacon Trade

As is well known, hogs have reached an unprecedentedly high level—$17.45 per cwt, being paid for fed and watered, on the Toronto market. The fact that, even with live hogs at this figure, shipments of bacon are regularly going forward to England, will serve to illustrate very clearly the demand for that product on the British market. Without doubt, Canada stands in a better position today to develop a permanent bacon trade with Great Britain than has ever been the case before. To do this, however, there must be volume of supply. There is very good reason to believe that, although prices cannot be expected to remain at the present high level, the demand for bacon, in the face of the supply that can be obtained, will be such as to hold the market in a very firm condition, both during and after a considerable period following the war.

Great Britain's imports of bacon in 1915 amounted to 1,241,441 cwt. From Canada she obtained only 1,234,431. The fact that Canadian bacon has been selling at an advance of from 10s. to 12s. per cwt. above American and not more than 12s. under the nominal quotation for Danish, illustrates very clearly to what extent Canada should increase her export trade and had she a sufficient quantity of hogs to make this possible. The English merchant and the British consumer will buy Canadian bacon today, quality being equal, in preference to that from any other country in the world with the possible exception of Ireland. Not only so, but an enormous market exists for the hams, frozen pork and cured meats of various descriptions. This market is as remunerative as the bacon trade, although it is not so well known. The Canadian bacon trade is a purely commercial one, and we must not forget that we cannot sell to the British merchants unless we have the mark and will lose status on the British market. ## DEALING WITH YOUR 'PHONE CUSTOMERS

Some Hints to Business Men on an Important Phase of Salesmanship

While the need of courtesy and intelligence over the telephone, may not be so obvious as when one is in direct and personal contact, the very fact of their entire dependence upon you to meet their needs should impel you to exert every effort to give satisfaction, says the Canadian Manufacturer.

Your responsibility is greater, because of the fact that your identity is not so readily detected, as when dealing personally with customers. They are the representative of the store, and how they and your employer rely on you to deal with them as fairly, as courteously, and as accurately as possible.

Concentrate Attention on Conversation
While you cannot see the customer, and cannot yourself be seen, the telephone reflects your attitude through the voice quite as accurately and as quickly as a personal interview would do. The voice is a more sensitive index to the manner with which you approach a customer than is the personal appearance when face to face. Concentrate all your attention on the conversation engaged in. Failure to do this will inevitably result in loss of respect on the part of the customer. Do not be abrupt in your replies. Try to speak pleasantly and endeavor to ascertain exactly what is required. Answer the telephone call with promptitude. Do not forget that courtesy is due as soon as the bell begins to ring.

Do not say "Hello," but identify yourself at once. In this way time is saved by not waiting to be asked or having to reply to a question as to who you are.

Train Jumped Track
Four persons were seriously injured when Wabash train, No. 17, jumped the track at Perre, Ill., shortly after two o'clock Friday morning.
